

1st Merriott Scouts Camp, Maesteg, South Wales, 1946

Above, departure from the Scout Hut, an ex-army American army cookhouse. The site is now the church car park.

Below and next page, the hilly camp site near Maesteg, South Wales

Scenes around the campit rained for most of the week!

Alan Robinson, Assistant Scout Master inspecting the camp toilet facilities.....

This photograph is of the farmer in whose field we camped, his wife and daughter. On the final night the weather was so bad the whole troop slept in his barn!

With thanks to Richard Rumsby for sharing these photographs.
